B. WORDS

	ANSWER	WHY — SIMPLE	WHY — IN DETAIL
1 census	b	A count of all the people.	The Census counts everyone in Australia on one night, so governments know how many people live where, and what they need.
2 household	f	Everyone in one home.	A household is all the people who live together in one home. One form covers one household.
3 form	e	The paper with the questions.	This form has 65 questions across 26 pages. You write your answers in the small boxes.
4 include	c	Put the person on the form.	If you include someone, you write their name and answer the questions for them in their own column.
5 visitor	h	A guest who sleeps here.	A visitor does not live here. But if they slept here on Census night, they go on this form, not their own.
6 compulsory	a	You must do it.	The Census is required by law — the Census and Statistics Act 1905. Page 2 of the form says so.
7 confidential	d	Kept secret.	The ABS must keep your information secure and cannot release it in a way that is likely to identify you.
8 return	g	Send it back.	Post the paper form in the Reply Paid envelope — or do it online instead and recycle the paper.

C. UNDERSTAND

	ANSWER	WHY — SIMPLE	WHY — IN DETAIL
1	TRUE	The form says this date.	Census night is printed on the front page: Tuesday 11 August 2026.
2	FALSE	Everyone is counted.	The Census counts everyone in Australia, including non-citizens and international visitors. Only foreign diplomats are left out.
3	TRUE	Babies count too.	The front page says 'including visitors and babies'. Age makes no difference.
4	TRUE	It is the law.	Page 2 says the Census is compulsory, under the Census and Statistics Act 1905.
5	FALSE	Nobody can see your answers.	The ABS is legally required not to release information in a way that is likely to identify an individual.
6	TRUE	You can use the internet.	Go to census.abs.gov.au , then enter the Census number and temporary password from the front of the form.
7	TRUE	Visitors are included.	Anyone who slept in the dwelling on Census night goes on the form, even for one night only.

Census night is Tuesday 11 August

	ANSWER	WHY — SIMPLE	WHY — IN DETAIL
1	Tuesday, 11 August 2026	The day, the date, the year.	Say it as one phrase. In Australia the day comes before the month: 11 August, not August 11.
2	11 is in the T column	Second row, second column.	The calendar columns are M T W T F S S. The first T is Tuesday, the second is Thursday.
3	1800 181 227 · 131 450 · 1800 130 250	Help · interpreter · extra form.	Australians say these in groups: eighteen hundred, one-eight-one, two-two-seven . Ask for it digit by digit if you need to.
4	No fixed answer	Your own words.	Aim for a full sentence: Census night is Tuesday the eleventh of August . Ask three different people.

E. DO IT

	ANSWER	WHY — SIMPLE	WHY — IN DETAIL
1 Amal	✓	She slept here.	She lives here and spent the night. This is the simplest case on the form.
2 Sara	✓	A visitor who slept here.	Visitors go on the form for the place where they slept, not on their own household's form.
3 Sami	✓	Babies count.	Age makes no difference. A baby born before Census night was a person in Australia that night.
4 Tomas	✓	Shift workers count.	Page 3 includes anyone who lives here, was at work overnight, and returned the next day without being on another form.
5 The postman	✗	He did not sleep here.	The Census counts the night , not the day. Coming to the door on Wednesday morning is not Census night.
6 Nadia	✗	She is on another form.	She slept at her cousin's, so she is counted there. Counting one person twice would make the numbers wrong.

How to write your answers

Try the exercises first, then check. Mark your own work. Every answer here has a short reason and a longer one — read the short one first.

B. WORDS

	ANSWER	WHY — SIMPLE	WHY — IN DETAIL
1 capital letters	c	Big letters.	A B C, not a b c. The form asks for capitals on every page because a machine reads the form.
2 box	f	One small square.	Each box holds exactly one letter. The squares are about 7mm — practise writing small.
3 mark	e	Put a cross in it.	The form says 'mark response boxes'. A cross is what it shows — not a tick, not a circle.
4 mistake	a	Something wrong.	Everyone makes them. The form tells you how to fix one, so a mistake is never a reason to start again.
5 a space	b	One empty box.	Between two words, leave one box empty. Without it, the machine reads the two words as one.
6 specify	h	Write it yourself.	'Other (specify)' appears dozens of times. It means your answer is not in the list, so write it in the boxes.
7 leave blank	g	Write nothing.	Some questions are not for you — for example, questions for people aged 15 or over. Leave them empty.
8 Go to 19	d	Jump forward.	This is a skip instruction. It saves you time: those questions do not apply to your answer.

Row 1	✓ Right	Capitals, one per box, one space.	This is exactly what page 1 asks for. Everything else in the table breaks one of those rules.
small letters	✗ Wrong	Must be CAPITALS.	john smith should be JOHN SMITH. The form says 'Use CAPITAL letters'.
two in one box	✗ Wrong	One letter only.	Two letters in one square cannot be read. Use the next box.
no space	✗ Wrong	Leave one box empty.	JOHNSMITH reads as one word. One empty box separates the first name from the family name.
pencil	✗ Wrong	Pen only.	The form says a blue or black pen. Pencil can smudge or fade, and may not scan.

How to write your answers

	ANSWER	WHY — SIMPLE	WHY — IN DETAIL
1	MARY · JOHN SMITH · GRAHAM AVENUE	Capitals, one per box.	JOHN SMITH needs an empty box between the two words. GRAHAM AVENUE does too.
2	Line through the second T, write H	Cross out, then correct.	The form says: draw a line through the box. You do not need to start the form again, and you do not use correction fluid.
3	Blue or black pen	Only these two colours.	Red, green or pencil may not scan. If you only have a pencil, borrow a pen before you start.
4	No fixed answer	Your own questions.	Listen for the question form: Do I write big letters or small letters? rather than a single word.

	ANSWER	WHY — SIMPLE	WHY — IN DETAIL
Names	AMAL · HADDAD · TOMAS · SILVA	One letter in one box, capitals.	The first name and the family name go in separate boxes on the Census form — not on the same line. Question 6 asks for both.

B. WORDS

	ANSWER	WHY — SIMPLE	WHY — IN DETAIL
1 street number	b	The number of your house.	For example 12, or 3A, or LOT 37 in the country. It goes in its own small box, before the street name.
2 street name	d	The name of your street.	GRAHAM AVENUE, GEORGE STREET. Write the whole name, including AVENUE, STREET or ROAD.
3 suburb / locality	a	Your part of the city or town.	FAIRFIELD, CLIFTON HILL. 'Locality' is the word used for small country places.
4 state / territory	f	NSW, VIC, QLD...	Australia has six states and two territories. The form wants the short form, in capitals.
5 postcode	c	Four numbers.	For example 2165. Every suburb has one. It goes in the last small box, next to the state.
6 unit / flat / apartment	e	Your number in a building.	If you live in a block, this is your own number. If you live in a house, leave it blank.
7 dwelling	g	The Census word for a home.	It means any place people live: a house, a flat, a caravan, a houseboat. It appears in a dozen questions.
8 usual address	h	Where you really live.	The form's rule: the place where you have lived, or intend to live, for six months or more in 2026.

	ANSWER	WHY — SIMPLE	WHY — IN DETAIL
UNIT 4	Apartment/Flat/Unit number	Your number in the building.	It has its own box at the top of Question 1, before the street number.
12	Street number	The number of the building.	The building number on the street. Do not put it with the street name.
GRAHAM AVENUE	Street name	The street.	The longest box on the form, because street names are long.
FAIRFIELD	Suburb/Locality	The suburb.	Not the city. Sydney is not a suburb — Fairfield is.
NSW	State/Territory	Three letters.	Only three boxes, so the short form is the only thing that fits.
2165	Postcode	Four numbers.	Four boxes, four numbers. It always goes with the state.

Where do you live?

	ANSWER	WHY — SIMPLE	WHY — IN DETAIL
1	NSW New South Wales · VIC Victoria · QLD Queensland · SA South Australia · WA Western Australia · TAS Tasmania · NT Northern Territory · ACT Australian Capital Territory	Six states, two territories.	NT and ACT are territories, not states — that is why the form says ‘State/Territory’.
2	1 88 · 2 QUEENS PARADE · 3 CLIFTON HILL · 4 VIC · 5 3068	Small to big.	Australian addresses go from the smallest thing to the biggest: number, street, suburb, state, postcode.
3	Three mistakes	Number and street swapped; small letters; state written in full.	(a) graham avenue is in the street number row and 12 in the street name row — they are swapped. (b) graham avenue is in small letters; it must be GRAHAM AVENUE. (c) NEW SOUTH WALES will not fit in three boxes — write NSW. The suburb and postcode are both correct.
4	No fixed answer	Use the card, not your address.	Listen for the parts said in the right order, and for the postcode said digit by digit.

E. DO IT

	ANSWER	WHY — SIMPLE	WHY — IN DETAIL
Haddad address	4 · 12 · GRAHAM AVENUE · FAIRFIELD · NSW · 2165	Each part in its own box.	Write just 4 in the unit box, not UNIT 4 — the label already says what the box is for. Same for the postcode: numbers only.

	ANSWER	WHY — SIMPLE	WHY — IN DETAIL
1 spent the night	a	Slept here on Tuesday.	This is the only thing Question 2 measures. Not who lives here — who slept here.
2 usually lives here	c	This is their home.	The form's rule: lived, or intends to live, at this address for six months or more in 2026.
3 away	b	Not here on Census night.	They live here, but slept somewhere else. They go in Questions 4, 5, 58 and 59.
4 visitor	e	A guest for one night.	They do not live here, but they slept here, so they are counted here.
5 spouse / partner	d	Husband, wife or partner.	The form has separate boxes for a married spouse and a de facto partner, at Question 10.
6 housemate	g	Shares the home, not family.	The form says 'unrelated flatmate or co-tenant' — someone you share with but are not related to.
7 boarder	f	Pays for one room.	A boarder rents a room inside someone else's home. They are still part of the household on Census night.
8 shift worker	h	Works at night.	The form names shift workers because they are the easiest people to forget: they were at work all night.

	ANSWER	WHY — SIMPLE	WHY — IN DETAIL
a How many slept here?	3	Question 3 asks the total present.	Question 2 asks who (the kinds of people); Question 3 asks how many .
b How many were away?	5	Question 5 asks the total away.	Question 4 asks who was away; Question 5 asks how many . The same pattern as 2 and 3.
c Was a visitor here?	2	Visitors are a box in Question 2.	The last box in Question 2: 'Visitors or friends who spent the night'.
d Someone on holiday overseas?	4	Question 4 lists reasons for being away.	One of its boxes is 'People on holiday, including people who are overseas'.

	ANSWER	WHY — SIMPLE	WHY — IN DETAIL
1 Amal	P	Lives here, slept here.	The straightforward case.
2 Yusuf	P	Lives here, slept here.	Person 2 on the form — the spouse of Person 1.
3 Layla	P	Lives here, slept here.	Children are counted the same as adults.
4 Rana	P	Lives here, slept here.	An adult family member, counted like everyone else.
5 Nadia	A	Slept somewhere else.	She usually lives here but slept at her cousin's, and she is on their form. She goes in Questions 4, 5, 58 and 59.
6 Tomas	P	Night shift — still counted.	He lives here, was at work all night, came home Wednesday, and is on no other form. Page 3 says to include him.
7 Sara	P	A visitor who slept here.	She lives in Melbourne, but she slept here, so she is counted here.
8 Karim	A	Overseas on holiday.	He usually lives here, so he is away — not missing. Question 4 lists holidays and overseas travel.
9 Rana's brother	N	He went home to sleep.	He visited on Tuesday evening but slept at his own home, so he is counted there, not here.

E. DO IT

Question 4 / 5	2	Two people were away.	Nadia (staying with relatives) and Karim (on holiday overseas). Count your A answers. Both also need Questions 58 and 59.
